Capability Statement

Better Direct AI is the only HUBZone, SDVOSB (Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business), and SDB (Small Disadvantaged Business), IT Solutions Integrator, OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer), and AI innovator in Arizona. We specialize in advanced Artificial Intelligence solutions, comprehensive IT services, custom hardware manufacturing, and value-added reselling of hardware and software designed to meet our clients' unique requirements. Better Direct offers over 2,000 brands and over 400,000 products. Since 2006, Better Direct AI has successfully delivered over $600M of products and services to customers while providing HUBZone support for our community, which sets us apart.

What Does Better Direct AI Do?

AI Solutions: Leveraging our two database centers, team of dedicated software developers, and engineers lead by a full time project manager, Better Direct AI develops unique, custom AI solutions tailored to your business needs. We have written and deployed our own AI solutions such as a BDAI's customer relationship management tool which integrates AI into all aspects of our daily work. We deliver AI development, integration, and implementation services that drive efficiency, automation, and innovation. Better Direct AI can mirror your existing environment to ensure seamless integration, ongoing maintenance, and superior support for all AI implementations.

IT Services: We deliver full-lifecycle professional services including hardware installation, removal, and maintenance; software development, implementation, and integration. Our managed IT services provide proactive monitoring, timely incident response, comprehensive support, security patching, and strategic IT project management to minimize downtime and maximize uptime. We use AI to optimize all aspects of our service provisions and analyze your existing infrastructure to identify opportunities for improvement, guide virtualization and cloud migration, perform thorough risk assessments, and implement secure collaboration and communication solutions (including VoIP, video conferencing, and secure email systems) that boost productivity while protecting data privacy.

Hardware Manufacturing: As an OEM, Better Direct AI designs and manufactures custom hardware solutions in our own laboratory. This includes custom-built servers and innovative storage systems that optimize performance and data management. If no standard systems are available, Better Direct AI will custom design new and original solutions to precisely meet your requirements.

Value-Added Reselling: Better Direct AI is a premier value-added reseller and IT solutions integrator, offering products and solutions from over 2,000 leading IT manufacturers and more than 400,000 hardware, software, and technology products. We combine best-in-class products with our expertise in integration, on-site installation, training, and ongoing support to deliver turnkey solutions.

Why Better Direct AI?

HUBZone, SDVOSB, and SDB: Better Direct is a certified HUBZone, SDVOSB, and SDB Small Business offering our clients access to socio-economic contracting opportunities and promoting diversity in the IT industry.
